

NEIGHBORHOOD GROUND ZERO

MATCHLIGHT
ENTERTAINMENT

Contact: Jason Bourgault
Email: Matchlight@mac.com

Everyone thinks they're safe, but are they really?

You're walking the block with your dog when out of nowhere the house across the street explodes into a giant fireball!

You're eating breakfast with your family when an SUV slams into your kitchen!

You're waiting at a light for a train to pass when suddenly it derails dumping toxic chemicals everywhere!

A tornado appears in the distance, and before you can react it's tearing up every home in your neighborhood and there's nowhere to run!

Step into the heart of serenity, where tranquility shatters in the blink of an eye.

“NGZ” is a gripping reality show that thrusts viewers into the epicenter of chaos as peaceful American neighborhoods become battlegrounds of unforeseen disasters.

It unveils harrowing experiences, and remarkable acts of courage that define these communities' response to disaster. You'll feel the panic and heartbreak, see the bravery and unity, as lives are changed in an instant

Each thirty-minute episode delves into three distinct narratives, blending real-time visuals, personal accounts, expert analyses, and reenactments to provide an immersive exploration of resilience, unity, and strength in the face of the unthinkable.

“NGZ” is a rollercoaster of emotions, a testament to human strength, and a rallying call to be prepared. It delivers suspense, empathy, and empowerment, that will leave viewers on the edge of their seats.

How do you prepare for something when you don't know it's coming?

SHOW FORMAT:

“NGZ” is made up of twelve – thirty-minute episodes. (They could be aired back-to-back or as stand-alones.)

Each episode will focus on three different stories.

The first story will be 6 minutes. (The Grabber story with good caught on tape and catch your breath moments)

The second story will be 10 minutes. (Feature story – Has all the elements and beats to sustain 10 minutes, will have the expert analysis and teaching moment )

The third story will be 6 minutes. (The final story – Great tease video – No deaths in this one – Good heroic ending)

The narrative will be driven by first-hand account interviews by those involved as well as specialists that deal in disaster response.

The stories will be made up from a variety of home video footage, news footage, police dash & body cam , surveillance footage, doorbell Cams, recreations and photos.

Video animations will be used help to establish where each events take place. They will also be used to provide references, crucial details, educational content, and preparedness tips to the audience.

Sample Story Content:

These examples showcase the wide range of stories that "Neighborhood Ground Zero" could explore, from natural disasters and accidents to conflicts and unexpected events. Each story offers a unique perspective on the impact of disasters on communities and the strength that emerges in their wake.

Tornado Terror: A peaceful suburban neighborhood is suddenly engulfed by a massive tornado. Witness interviews capture the frantic moments as residents seek shelter, and expert analysis provides insights into tornado formation and safety measures.

Collision Course: An unexpected accident involving a school bus and a fuel truck causes a massive explosion in a residential area. News footage and witness accounts reveal the chaos that ensued, while expert commentary highlights the importance of safety regulations and preparedness.

Confrontation Escalation: A heated disagreement between neighbors escalates into a violent confrontation. Witness interviews showcase the escalation and aftermath, with experts discussing conflict resolution and community building in the face of hostility.

Firestorm: A fire breaks out in a quiet neighborhood, spreading rapidly due to high winds. Real-time visuals and interviews with firefighters and residents offer a dramatic depiction of the battle against the blaze. Experts discuss fire safety and the importance of community support.

Avalanche of Fear: An unexpected avalanche hits a mountain community, trapping residents in their homes. Witness accounts and rescue footage depict the intense efforts to locate survivors and provide aid. Expert analysis explores avalanche prevention and emergency response strategies.

In the Line of Fire: A high-speed police chase culminates in a shootout on suburban streets. News coverage, witness interviews, and law enforcement insights shed light on the dangers of pursuits in residential areas and the challenges faced by first responders.

Crash Landing: A small plane makes an emergency landing in a residential neighborhood. Witness interviews capture the shock of residents and the efforts of first responders. Aviation experts provide context on emergency landings and aviation safety protocols.

Sinkhole Surprise: A massive sinkhole suddenly swallows parts of a neighborhood, causing destruction to homes and infrastructure. Witness interviews highlight the confusion and rapid evacuation, while geologists explain the formation of sinkholes and their potential dangers.

Industrial Infernos: A chemical plant explosion sends toxic plumes into the air, prompting evacuations in a nearby neighborhood. Witness accounts detail the chaos, and environmental experts discuss the implications of such incidents on communities and the environment.

The Big Flood: Heavy rains turn this neighborhood into lake in a matter of hours. People need to be rescued as 10-to-12-foot surges of water take over their homes.

Animal Attack: A sudden animal attack by a large predator creates panic in a residential area. Witness interviews capture the shock and efforts to ensure safety, while wildlife experts provide insights into animal behavior.

Mudslide Mayhem: Heavy rains trigger a mudslide that inundates a residential area. Real-time footage and witness interviews showcase the rapid destruction, while geologists provide insights into mudslide formation.

Train Derailment: A train derailment near a neighborhood causes chaos and hazardous material leaks. Witness interviews capture the evacuation process, while rail experts discuss rail safety and emergency response.

Neighborhood Uprising: After a police shooting, the community turns into an angry mob tearing it apart seeking justice. Both sides express their views in hopes of bringing this divided community back together again.